

Royal Baking Powder

A cream of tartar baking powder Highest of all in leavening strength—Latest United States Government Food Report.

A large threshing machine and outfit arrived here last night from the upper country to assist in harvesting the big crop around here. For the past two or three years several owners from Washington have found it profitable to operate their machines in this county. Notwithstanding there have been many new machines sold here this year many more outside machines will be required to harvest the crop in the usual season's time owing to the acreage being so much greater than heretofore.

Stray Notice.

CITY AND COUNTY.

A Full Resume of News--Local Personal and Otherwise.

The Press gives the news.

Dr. Dell is suffering from a batch of Job's afflictions this week.

Antifermentine, the greater fruit preserver, at the Pioneer Drug Store.

L. H. Knapp, vice president of the Knapp Burrell Co., was in the city Saturday.

Frank Martin, a Umatilla reservation rancher, takes 44,000 sacks for his grain crop.

The nights are becoming so cool that frost and even ice has been seen by early risers in Helix.

Hewitt uses nothing but pure, fresh drugs in filling prescriptions. Take your prescriptions to him.

Business must be picking up somewhat in the large cities among the wholesale firms, if we may judge by the influx of drummers.

John Clancy, who stopped in Athens last winter, dropped over from Walla Walla Monday and shook hands with his many friends.

John Kenrick, cousin of Mrs. J. E. Gorman, of this city, representing the Van Aven Oil Co., was in town Monday on a business visit.

Wheat is coming in at a rapid rate, and it won't be long until thousands of sacks will soon be stored in Athens's warehouses and on the platforms.

Mr. Brook's little child narrowly escaped being mangled by a cow yesterday at Helix. Luckily the cow horn's failed to touch it until help came.

Major Conroy has been very ill at his home on the head of Thorn Hollow. The Press and many friends hope for the Major's speedy recovery.

Norman, a traveling sewing machine agent, hung his trousers by the tansom of his room in a Pendleton hotel, and during the night $25 was abstracted from his pockets.

Unless you write or have printed on your letter envelopes the number of days you wish it held, the postmaster will hereafter, by a new ruling, hold it thirty days instead of ten.

E. L. Barnett, while riding at Colton, Wash., the other day, became involved in a runaway, in which he came out second best, inasmuch as he sustained a severe sprained foot.

There are several pumps on Main street, most of which are in a most dilapidated state and in case of fire would be of no use whatever. The city council should see that they are taken out and repaired without delay.

Mr. Boddy the blockman at the O. K. meat market was confined to his room at the Athena House the fore part of the week with illness, but we are now pleased to chronicle the fact of his being able to be up and about again.

We understand the Pastor of the M. E. church is passing a three year's post graduate course in his Alma Mater, Allegheny College of Meadville Pennsylvania. It is a long course in "Political and Social Science," and when completed will procure the title Ph. D. Doctor of Philosophy.

Threshing is progressing nicely in the Helix neighborhood. Wheat is turning out from 13 to 30 bushels, and weighing from 130 to 140 per sack. This may be because of the high price of sacks and hard to get at any price. Some near Helix will probably haul and empty into the elevator as fast as they thresh.

Irving McQuary and wife, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bo, d came down from Baker City by team Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd will visit in Athens the coming week. Irv's recreation seems to have agreed with him. He says he has gained several pounds in weight, but since he has shaved, we are under the impression that he is about his usual standard.

Elsewhere in this issue appears an answer to Eld. Daisley's communication which appeared in the Press of the issue of the 11th inst., by Eld. D. E. Scoles, who is now preaching in Pendleton. Like Eld. Daisley, Mr. Scoles, is an easy, free writer, and our readers may expect some master pieces on the subject of the Sabbath, from the pen of these two distinguished exponents, of their respective views on the subject.

County Surveyor Arnold has completed a map giving a very accurate idea of the proposed road up the Wild Horse from Saxe station to Adams, which will be a great convenience and cut off several miles between Pendleton and Adams. The map shows the exact route of the highway, the place of each man which it interests, the number of acres it will appropriate, the amount of fencing required, and other information of value.

Wm. Forsythe's barn, two miles north of Milton together with the entire contents, was consumed by fire on Saturday last. Loss about $100. No insurance. Cause, the irrepressible "kid" and a bunch of matches.

The J. L. Elam Hardware Company has been duly organized in Milton and articles of corporation filed. The incorporators are J. L. Elam, H. L. Frazier and A. M. Elam. The capital stock of the new firm is $10,000.

The outlook for the state normal school at Weston is considered very encouraging. Many people are removing to Weston to give their children an opportunity which the school will afford, and residences are in active demand.

Four mules, belonging to T. P. Page, broke loose from his combined harvester the other morning, and in the race that followed their liberation, one of them became entangled in a barb wire fence and was pretty badly cut up.

Gus Bushman, a reservation rancher inbibed a little too freely of the hilarious fluid one day last week and was taken to the city jail. The next morning he appeared before Recorder Gilman and was fined for disorderly conduct.

Farmers report the roads leading to Athens as very badly cut up. It is no wonder that the highways are in this condition when we consider the fact that hundreds of wagons pass over the roads daily loaded down with wheat. The solution to the problem is strawed roads.

The West, a paper published at Florence, Lane county, Oregon, has a novel way of filling up its vacant advertising space by publishing sketches of mountain scenery. A subscription should be taken up by his brethren to send this editor to the World's Fair, as the only live editor living on real mountain scenery.

The attention of our readers is called to the new ad of Prof. Lane, the artist, in this issue. His studio over the First National Bank, is a model of neatness. He has a number of scholars and is now preparing to accommodate many more. He charges $1 per lesson with the scholar's privilege of keeping the paintings when completed.

An Oregon bride, supposed to be from Weston, in a sleeping car enroute to the World's Fair, started to get a drink of water. "When I come back," she said to her husband, "stick your foot out of the berth so I'll know which it is." The conversation was audible. When she returned a masculine foot protruded from nearly every berth.

E. O. While hunting and fishing on the north fork of Meacham creek R. Sargent discovered a reddish brown ore that he believes to be cinnabar, which it resembles in every particular. From the croppings the ledge appears to be a large one. It is located about six miles above the mouth of the stream. Mr. Sargent brought samples of the substance to Pendleton, and will send it away for a test. In the meantime he doesn't intend to bank very largely on possessing a bonanza.

Milton Eagle: Dr. E. P. Eagan who lives three miles below this city, has been damaged by a large fire on his farm which will take some time to die out. In one part of the farm is a strip of peat land that the doctor wishes to clear of the brush; a new hand was put to work cutting and clearing this underbrush, which he piled in heaps and set fire to. The fire soon spread all over the patch, and the efforts of one hundred men would be futile in extinguishing the flames.

While a reporter was in Norris & Maloney's harness emporium the other day, a traveling man for some whip company dropped in and unstrapped a big leather case and proceeded to display his wares. There were whips of all sizes and prices ranging from 25 cents to a fine gold mounted bug whip that retails for $45. This whip was a fine piece of workmanship indeed. The handle is a solid piece of African ivory with engravings of dogs on the sides, all of which is hand work. The ferris are of solid gold and richly engraved.

A couple of Athens youths went gunning for prairie hens last Saturday. When they arrived at Thorn Hollow they tied their team to the fence, and started in to investigate a corn field, where the fowls were reported to be found in great numbers. They had not proceeded far when the owner of the domain on which they were trespassing, called the turn on them. He unhitched the team, and drove it to his house, from whence they were afterward permitted to depart in peace after pleading as a mitigation for the misdemeanor their ignorance of a law making such liberties of another's premises a penal offense. On account of their age and inexperience it was but just and proper for the old gent to forgive them just this one time. The boy's names are E. DePeatt and P. M. Kirkland.—Willis in E. O.

Look out for the magic lantern exhibition in the M. E. church.

The band met for rehearsal Sunday for the first time since harvest began.

M. Finneran, at one time a resident of Athens, was in the city Wednesday.

The Farmers' Warehouse Co., have shipped nine carloads of wheat so far this season.

A. Roderick Grant of the O. W. R. Mf. Co., of Portland Or. was in the city yesterday.

Nye, the Walla Walla harness dealer, was in the city Sunday, a guest at the Young home.

Marshal Stamper and family are recreating on the shores of Willowa Lake this week.

Max Lewin has been improving the looks of the exterior of his residence by a fresh coat of cement.

Hugh Thompson is acting in the capacity of city marshal during Stamper's absence at Willowa Lake.

Miss Eunice Smith departed for Pendleton yesterday evening, where she will teach in the public schools of that city.

J. W. Smith and James Maloney returned from a week's outing at Saling's camp, Monday and report a splendid time.

Al Johnson, accompanied by several others left Wednesday for Mud springs, on the Elgin road to kill "bar" and pick huckleberries.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marsert, died at their home on the reservation yesterday and will be buried in the Athens cemetery today.

During the past week the air has been loaded with a dense smoke, which comes from the forest fires now raging in the Blue Mountains near Kamela.

Wallie Ashpaugh, the brick mason left last week for his ranch on the Pend d'Oreille river, in Washington. Mr. Breckhill, his partner is still in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Maloney, who have been sojourning at Saling's camp, returned home Tuesday evening. Mrs. Maloney's health was benefited greatly by the trip.

The Press is getting up a clubbing list with the leading weekly newspapers and magazines of the United States, a list of which will appear soon as arrangements can be perfected.

The Walla Walla contractors who have been cementing the school house have completed their work and departed. Athens's spacious school house is second to none in the county.

It seemed like old times in Athens last Sunday. The streets were lined all day with teams and men from the harvest fields, which put some of the old life in things and made us forget all about the financial stringency for the time being.

William Winship and Lee Mitchell with their families, returned from Woodard's toll gate Tuesday where they have been recreating and picking huckleberries. They report a large number of people from Walla Walla and other places, camping there.

Chas. Brotherton finished threshing 240 acres of spring sown grain on the reservation Monday, from which he received 2,000 sacks of first-class wheat. He sold 100 sacks to the Farmers' Warehouse Co., for 36 cents per bushel.

Alex McRae, who has been employed by the Frank Bros., implement company, with headquarters at Walla Walla, for some time, has accepted a position with Knapp, Burrell & Co., of this city, taking the place made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Callendar, who has been with the company since last fall.

In last week's "patent" up the street, there appeared an article—one of Hendricks' "master-pieces"—in which he intimated that at one time the Press undertook, but "in vain," to "do" the Republican up. He is mistaken. It is, and always has been a self-evident fact in the minds of the people that the Inland Republican is a one horse affair and "done" to a turn.

In rambling through the north part of the city Sunday, a Press reporter was more than ever impressed with the fine appearance of that portion of Athens. The dwellings all have a neat, tidy, appearance, and most of the yards, and the young locust trees—invaluable to the Oregon home maker—were green and pleasing to the eye. Verily, the residence portion of Athens will go to the north.

This morning James Maloney, the new postmaster, assumed the responsibilities of the Athens office. James is a staunch young democrat and his credentials that went to Washington were of the best ever received from Oregon. Mr. Hansell, his predecessor steps down and out, by his own resignation, conscious of having fulfilled the duties of the office in the most efficient manner, and knowing that he has made many friends by his pleasant, courteous manner.

We hear considerable complaint about fast driving on Fifth street. Nearly every evening parties drive on that street apparently to show off their fast horses, and they raise such a dust as to make it very disagreeable to the residents in that vicinity. There is a city ordinance forbidding any one to drive along the streets at a faster rate than six miles an hour. We would advise those who desire to try the speed of their horses to find some other track. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

There will be a Sunflower concert in Gillis hall next Tuesday evening. The best musical talent of the city will be utilized. The Athena orchestra will also take a prominent part. Tableaux. Admission 25c and 15c Reserved seats 50 cents.

We would call attention to the estray notice published each week in the columns of the Press. The stock advertised in this notice is sold each Tuesday after publication unless claimed by owner before that time.

Mrs. J. M. Hayes wishes to announce through the columns of the Press that she is now prepared to do dressmaking in the very latest styles. Perfect fit guaranteed, and prices reasonable.

E. R. Cox, jr. accompanied by his mother, left on Wednesday evening's passenger for Berkeley, Calif. Ed goes to enter college and Mrs. Cox for the benefit of her health.

J. S. Post, who has been visiting relatives in Willowa county this summer, returned home Tuesday much improved in health.

John Fisher was down from his mountain ranch this week. He will remove to the city for the winter.

Crop and Weather.

It was slightly warmer last week; the mean temperature ranged from 64 to 72 degrees. No rain occurred; though it is much needed. The sunshine is the average.

Harvesting and threshing of fall wheat is nearly over. Early sown spring wheat begins to ripen. Much spring wheat and oats are green. The second crop of alfalfa is being cut. Hay will continue nearly two weeks longer. Some wheat will be shivered and some will be burnt; but generally the grain is plump and of superior quality. Prunes, pears and plums are plentiful and of No. 1 quality. Stock on the range are in good condition. Stock buyers are securing beef cattle for the markets. Water in the streams is getting low, and there is not sufficient water for irrigation purposes. Vegetables need rain badly.

Good News.

The long faces of our farmers were shortened a trifle today says the East Oregonian by information given them by Cashier Sturgis, of the First National bank. Several went to him with statements that they could get but 32 cents a bushel for their wheat, and Mr. Sturgis relieved their despondency to some extent by an agreement which will be cheering news to many Umatilla county farmers. All farmers having paper due at the bank are offered the privilege of paying the same in wheat at forty cents per bushel, free on board. In this way they are given an opportunity to relieve themselves from pressure and obtain for their wheat considerable more than its market value. A better feeling has been created in consequence.

Held "Up" a Meat Wagon.

Ed. Butrick, the Adams meat dealer, had an experience the other day with three hungry tramps whom he met on the road, a short distance below Havana, while driving along with his meat wagon. They suddenly sprang in front of the horses and "held him up," demanding beef or brains. Mr. Butrick started to drive on, but one of the men then leveled a pistol at his head, and he considered this sufficient inducement to remain. He now told them it was unnecessary to frighten him further—he would give up all the meat he had—and he handed out the few pounds left in his wagon. They wanted no money, evidently, for this concession appeared to satisfy them and they allowed him to depart in peace.

Farmers Protected.

Receiver Forbes, of the Northern Pacific Elevator company, at St. Paul, applied to Judge Williams, in the United States circuit court for an order to distribute the wheat which they had actually delivered to the elevator company on its receipts. This was objected to by the creditors, who held warehouse receipts as collateral security for notes. The judge granted the application. He held that the elevator company was legally bound to return the wheat to the farmers. As to the warehouse receipts, the elevator company had issued them without having the wheat in actual possession, and hence committed a fraud.

Had the Sand.

Little 11-year-old Hans Hansen, living near Nehalem, had an experience the other day he will not soon forget. While fishing in Cook creek canyon with a companion he crawled through some brush to reach a place near the falls. The other boy, being larger, could not get through, so he started to climb over, when he ran into a cougar. He picked up some rocks and threw at the beast, and being hit the cougar made a spring and landed on the back of young Hansen, who was a few feet below. He had just stepped on a rock in the edge of the water when the cougar struck him and he was knocked into the foaming water and carried over the falls. He escaped unhurt. The cougar did not go over the falls, but after a hard struggle to get out finally succeeded and disappeared in the woods. The boy has lots of grit, for he went fishing in the same place the next day.

Wouldn't Let Her Land.

The Herald's correspondent at Valparaiso cables a dispatch from the Herald's correspondent in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, which shows that the steamer Carlos is on the Atlantic ocean, bound for no port, filled with persons afflicted with cholera and having a record of 105 deaths on her voyage across the ocean. The dispatch says the steamer Carlos arrived at Rio Janeiro today from the Grand Island canal and that 105 persons on board died of cholera on the way over. When the ship got into the harbor and made her report she was refused permission to land or even put her crew and passengers in quarantine. She was escorted out of the harbor by the warship Republica and was ordered not to land at any Brazilian port.

Depositors' Committee.

The committee of depositors of the Portland Savings bank, appointed at the meeting held at the Marquam Grand opera-house last Thursday evening, has not yet taken any definite action in the matter of receivership. The committee proposes to follow out the instructions of the mass meeting by which they were appointed, and will not be turned aside from their intention, to have an impartial receiver appointed, by chamber of commerce resolutions or requests made by the bank directors to the clearing-house.

Dynamite and Thresher.

News of a distasteful attempt at dynamiting, the full accomplishment of which would have resulted in many lives being lost, comes from near Dayton. Dynamite was placed in the threshing machine of Mr. Butler. The explosion blew out the cylinder and generally wrecked the machine. Two men were seriously hurt. There is no clue to the perpetrators or the motives which actuated the deed.

Take Notice Farmers.

The C. A. Barrett Co. will receive wheat on account and allow 40 cts. per bushel for good merchantable wheat. Wheat to be delivered at platform designated by us this will apply to notes endorsed by us and having passed out of our hands before this date this offer to hold good until further notice.

HELIIX NOTES.

Aug. 29th 1893.—Mrs. Johnson is here visiting her mother, Mrs. Benner who is still very sick.

Mrs. John Vert and Miss Maggie Roberts were in town last week. Miss Roberts will occupy the primary school room this winter.

P. Jones, Al Grover, L. D. Smith and Pro. Austin are in the mountains killing grouse and catching fish by the hundreds. One grouse was killed that weighed 47 lbs and several trout caught that measured 40 to 50 inches from tip to tip. The boys started Sunday and we have not heard from them since.

T. J. Marshal has remodeled his chop mill, got a 12 horse power engine and changed things in general so that he now has a good mill.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Simpson are the proud parents of a 10 pound girl.

There are several families talking of moving to Helix this winter to take advantage of our public schools which will begin September 18th.

If you owe us bring in wheat The C. A. Barrett Co.

BORN.
MANNFIELD—New Athens, Aug. 21, 1893. to Mr and Mrs. Harlan Mannfield, a daughter.

The Heppner Sensation.

A gentleman from Heppner states that three men are under arrest there for the sensational highway robbery a week or two ago of Frank Sloan and a young man named Thompson. The accused are Frank Sloan himself and Frank and Newt Jones, sons of a leading citizen of Morrow county. It is alleged that Sloan stood in with the highwaymen and received a share of the booty. He had paid young Thompson $75 and claimed to have $55 left, after drawing upon the bank, but it was discovered that he only drew out $30, and that he lost only a few dollars, while Thompson lost about $125. It was supposed the latter had collected some notes and had two or three hundred dollars in his possession.

Among the Merchants.

The merchants of Athens enjoyed a good trade Sunday. All day at Hollis's the clerks were kept on the jump while at Bloch's everybody was in a rush waiting on customers who did not have time to come to town through the week. Bergevin Bros., at the Grange store three clerks had all they could possibly attend to. Athens enjoys the reputation of having the best merchandise establishments in Umatilla county and consequently her merchants receive the great bulk of the trade of the central part of the county.

There is not much money in circulation, but to the contrary notwithstanding, considerable money was put afloat in the numerous channels of circulation. Taken all in all, Sunday's trade in this city was good.

Negotiating for the Reservoir Site.

E. O. Monday, in Lot Livermore's office, representatives of the Blue Mountain Irrigation & Improvement Company held a conference with several Indians in regard to securing title for the company's reservoir site on McKay creek.

Part of this is owned by the Indians, who there took a portion of their allotments. Considerable delay has been caused by negotiations with the red men, but all present at the conference agreed to give deeds to their lands at certain figures, and very probably the company will soon be able to obtain title.

Judge Cash-Cash, Chief Peo, Amos Pond and Tomacuss were the Indians who attended the pow-wow. Wm. Barnhart acted as interpreter.

A Record in Heading.

The boys comprising the header crew of John B. Crow and John Todd, who lately finished work north of Pendleton, are in town and feel elated over the record made by the outfit—so much so that they express eagerness to put up their harvest wages on the proposition that no other crew will beat it in Umatilla county. They ran thirty-two days with a fourteen-foot header, and in twenty-three of them made an average of forty-two acres daily, working about eleven hours and a half. The header had eight horses attached, and kept five header wagons busily employed. The members of the force were Boss McMahon, stacker; Marion Mills, header driver; John and Ed. Kelley, Mike Arbogast, John Todd, Enoch Pearson, header wagon drivers.

Restored its Dead.

Last Saturday some little girls who happened along the banks of the Umatilla river, below Foster, discovered the skeleton remains of a human being. They proved to be all that is mortal of George Marley, the unfortunate boy who lost his life by drowning in the Umatilla some months ago, prolonged efforts to recover the body proving futile. Now the river, its waters receding, has given up its dead. A casket was ordered from Pendleton and the remains interred. Several weeks ago when hope of finding the body had been abandoned, funeral services were held in the presence of a large number of people.

Coyle's Case.

Wilse Coyle, who shot the man in the leg in Swartz's saloon in Walla Walla not long since, received a trial last week and was discharged from custody, it being brought in the testimony that Coyle committed the deed accidentally. He was rearrested immediately on a warrant sworn out by the prosecuting attorney of Walla Walla county, and placed under $100 bonds to answer the charge of discharging fire-arms in a careless manner in a dwelling. The trial was set for last Monday, at which time Coyle appeared and was fined $55 and costs, which he promptly paid.
